Special Dispatch to The Bee.

NEW YORK, December 6.—Money—Market at 3½ per cent, closed off at 3 per cent.

Prime Mercantile Paper—@8 per cent.
 Sterling Exchange—Bankers' bills, steady at 34½ per cent; demand, $4,841.

Governments strong and generally 4½ per cent higher.

The stock market opened strong and continued so during the first hour and a quarter, and prices advanced @2 per cent, the leading stocks in advance being grangers, coal shares, Union Pacific and Louisville & Nashville. From 11:30 until 12:30 the market was dull, and there were fractional reactions in the general list. The market then became very dull and in the early part of the last hour prices showed a fractional decline from those ruling at two o'clock. The market then seems firm and the general list recovered part of the slight decline experienced after two o'clock. Northwestern common and preferred were quoted, ex. dividend at 131½@132 for February, and 1 1/4 for preferred. Aside from these changes the market was strong just at the close. It seems pretty well understood that the upward turn to the market just before the close was due to the buying of H. M. Smith and others.
